HORRIBLE

Railroad Accident at Oakland!

13 PEOPLE KILLED!

A Train Goes Trough
An Open Draw.

On Webster Street Bridge with Terrible Results.

[From yesterday's GAZETTE Extra.]

Special to the GAZETTE.]

OAKLAND, May 30.—The Narrow Gauge local train ran into an open draw on Webster street bridge this afternoon.

The engine, tender and one passenger car, crowded with passengers, went into the creek.

The body of E. P. Robinson of San Francisco has just been recovered. Seven bodies of the unknown dead had been recovered up to three o'clock and taken to the morgue. The coroner is at the scene directing the work of recovering the bodies.

OAKLAND, 4:30 o'clock.—The top of the car was cut open and three bodies taken out through the opening. The dead thus far taken out are two women and six men. One of the former was a young lady, and the other one was an old lady with gray hair.

An immense crowd was quickly attracted by the disaster, but could lend no intelligent aid, so quickly were the people imprisoned in the car. The second car hung balanced over the draw.

Most of the victims were dead when taken from the first car, although every effort was made to resuscitate them. J. L. Howard was found safe.

4:45 P. M.—Two more bodies of men have been taken out, swelling the total to ten. There were three passenger coaches in the train, two of which remained on the approach to the draw. One of the derailed is a Japanese lady, name unknown.

The estuary is covered with boats grappling for the dead. The total dead will probably be 30. Thirteen bodies have been recovered, but only three bodies have been identified—Captain John Dwyer, J. R. Irwin, H. Malatesta and the Japanese.

TO-DAY'S ACCOUNT

Concerning the Awful Oakland Horror.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—At 1:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon the local narrow gauge train connecting at Oakland with the ferry boats from San Francisco, ran through an open draw-bridge over San Antonio Creek, on Webster street, Oakland.

The yacht Juanita had just passed through the draw when the train appeared going in the direction of Alameda.

The draw-bridge keeper endeavored at once to close the bridge, but it was too late, and the engine with the tender and first car, which was filled with passengers, plunged into the estuary, which was here quite deep.

Engineer Sam Dunn, when he saw the bridge did not close, reversed his lever, but the engine could not be stopped in time. The weight of the engine and first car broke the couplings and left the other two cars of the train standing on the track. The second car ran about a third of the way across the bridge and stopped, but the jar was sufficient to break open the front of the car, and many passengers were thrown into the water.

The first car, which had followed the engine to the bottom of the muddy estuary, soon rose, and such of the passengers as had escaped therefrom were picked up by yachts and small boats.

The wrecking train arrived from Oakland and the car was dragged into shallow water, and the small boats began to drag the creek for bodies.

The top of the passenger coach was cut open as soon as it was raised above the water, and the work of removing the bodies was commenced, ten being taken out in quick succession.

Engineer Dunn and Fireman O'Brien could not be found, but it was afterwards thought that they managed to escape.

The train was in charge of Conductor Rerath and an extra crew, it being a holiday, and the conductor at first stated that probably twenty-five persons had met their death.

The news of the accident created intense excitement in Oakland, and thousands of people flocked to the morgue and to the scene of the wreck.

In a short time thirteen bodies lay on the floor and on the marble slabs of the morgue awaiting identification.

At midnight last night all bodies recovered from the train wreck in Oakland had been identified. The following is the list: Captain Thomas Dwyer of Sacramento; J. R. Irwin of Oakland; Henry S. Austin of San Francisco and his daughter, Miss Florence Austin; Miss Katie Kearns and Miss Nellie Kearns of San Francisco; H. S. Auld of Honolulu; Matthias Williams of San Francisco; E. R. Robinson of San Francisco; Mrs. Bryan O'Connor of San Francisco; Martin S. Kelly of San Francisco; Luigi Malatesta and Allilio Malatesta, his son, of San Francisco.

No additional bodies have been recovered from the Oakland estuary, where the narrow gauge train was wrecked yesterday afternoon. This leaves the list of identified dead at thirteen, as heretofore telegraphed.

Engineer Samuel Dunn is still missing, but is not thought to have been drowned, as the statement is made that he was positively identified by one of the Oakland railway officials a short time after the accident occurred.

A close watch was kept all night on the Oakland estuary where the narrow gauge train was wrecked yesterday afternoon, and a number of boats were busily engaged in dragging for any bodies of the dead passengers that might have escaped the searchers at first, but no more bodies were found, and it is now thought that all have been recovered.

Early this morning people flocked to the scene of the wreck, among them being many who had friends visiting San Francisco on Friday, whom they feared might be on the train.

The force of workmen engaged in raising the car which fell into the creek was increased, and efforts were made to get the car up on the beach, where a search might be made for any bodies that might be wedged in.

Several divers who have been employed, made as thorough a search of the car as they were able to, but found no bodies, and are positive that none remain therein.

The engine has not been seen since it dashed from the bridge into the water. Engineer Dunn's family reside at Boulder Creek, Santa Cruz county, and word was received this morning that they had received a telegram, stating that Dunn was safe and well.

A witness of the disaster claims to have seen fireman O'Brien clamber up the piles to the wharf after the wreck, and also that he talked with O'Brien later, when the latter denied that he was the fireman.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the passenger coach was hauled out from the estuary upon the beach and thoroughly searched, but no more bodies were found.

The names of a number of passengers who were injured by the fall and by the breaking of glass have been ascertained, and among them are J. A. Cavanaugh and son, F. E. Finley and G. L. Cunningham of San Francisco, Councilman John Hackett of Oakland and John L. Howard, Manager of the Oregon Development Company.

A BLOCK BURNED

Of Butchertown San Francisco.

HARRISON AT PITTSBURG, PA.

Emperor William and the Czar to Meet.

Two Firemen Lose Their Lives Saving Others.

An Official Tour.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
WASHINGTON, May 31.—First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson leaves to-morrow for the yearly official tour of the far West. He will proceed to Seattle, State of Washington, and from that point diverging tours will be made through Washington and Oregon. Later he will visit San Francisco and other leading cities and towns of California.

The prime object of this tour is to obtain a thorough knowledge of the postal needs of the Pacific slope. Clarkson is of the opinion that the far West is entitled to better facilities and believes that a Western man acquainted with the peculiarities and rapidity of Western development is best able to judge of its postal needs. He will make a close inspection of the service at all important centers, and on his return in about a month or six weeks, will make such recommendations as the situation demands.

On his return to Washington he will tender to the President his resignation, to take effect immediately.

The Presidential Party.

By Associated Press.]

PITTSBURG, May 31.—President Harrison and party arrived this morning. They were received by the Mayor and military, and were driven to their hotel.

The President subsequently held a reception at the Exposition Building, where 3,000 people shook hands with him. He was the guest of the Scotch-Irish Congress.

The party then returned to Union Station, where the President held an informal reception, leaving for the East at 10 o'clock.

An Unfavorable Record.

By Associated Press.]

PITTSBURG, May 31.—A very large number of persons attended the Scotch-Irish conference this morning. After President Harrison's reception Governor Campbell of Ohio was introduced by President Bonner, and delivered an address upon the history of the Scotch-Irish in Ohio. He spoke of their industry and thrift, and mentioned numberless Governors, cabinet officers and other prominent politicians who during the past century have been drawn from that race in that State.

In religious, educational and newspaper circles many of the most famous men in the country came from Scotch-Irish homes of the Buckeye State—the names of Horace Greely, Whitelaw Reid, Colonel Cockrell and a dozen or more others. Among the Scotch-Irish soldiers of Ohio birth were Grant, Sheridan, Custer, McCumb and Rosecrans.

Dr. H. A. White of the Washington and Lee University, the great Scotch-Irish institution of Virginia, was the next speaker. He dwelt upon the Scotch-Irish influence in the South.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

The Work of a Newspaper Man.

Perhaps no calling in which a man can engage subjects him to as much criticism as the newspaper business, and it is certainly true that the publishers do not demand one hundredth part as much for their work as men following other vocations. The newspaper is the channel through which all information of interest to the public has to be disseminated; the newspaper makes and unmake men in a day; it holds the town up to the public gaze and shouts loud and long of the superior advantages offered for the homeseeker. The reporter hunts up the orator of each occasion and begs him to give the paper a copy of his remarks, that if published would do him a hundred times more good than it would the paper. If there is a public meeting called it is announced through the newspaper without the hope or expectation of fee or reward. In fact the newspaper is called upon every day in the year to set up type, furnish space and paper, which means so much gold or silver to the publisher, to tell the people something that would cost money if the information was circulated in any other way. If a man brings in a four-bit ad, he expects a $2 local calling attention to it; if he takes the paper and pays two bits a week for it, he expects the editor to fight all of his battles, and assumes the right to indicate the policy of the paper. The majority of people run of an idea that to give them a "personal" every time they go out of town or return is a part of the newspaper man's stock in trade, and never as much as a "thank you" is heard. The newspapers of a town do more work for charity than two hundred men engaged in any other business. The GAZETTE and Journal have been holding up Reno by the nose of the neck for the last eighteen or twenty years, and have done more real substantial benefit to the town than half the men in it, and have been poorer paid for their work. If it does not publish all the news going people say, "Stop the paper, there is nothing in it," and if it does publish all the happenings of the day the editor or publisher runs the chance of being mobbed or beaten over the head with a club in the hands of some individual who has had the truth told about him for once in his life. The life of a newspaper man is a very hard one at best.

The Oakland railroad disaster casts a gloom over the whole coast, and is one of those accidents that are happening all the time, and are attributable to sheer carelessness on the part of some one. If a law could be enacted and enforced that would hold men who are intrusted with the lives of others personally responsible, it might have the effect of making them more careful. But, as carelessness goes a long way towards making up the lives of the human family, disasters would continue to occur and valuable lives would be sacrificed through the utter neglect of some one.

NEWS NOTES.

Another effort is to be made to pass an International Copyright bill. The Miller estimates that there are 16,000 flour mills in the United States. Potato bugs have already appeared in large numbers in Rhode Island. Chicago's 4,200 saloons will pay $2,100,000 into the city treasury this year. Whooping cough is raging in Auburn, Maine. Entire families are reported ill with it. The cost of building in Philadelphia has considerably advanced in the past six months. A young man named Sutton has lived seventy-seven days on soda water at Dubuque, Iowa. The census enumerators have fifteen days in which to perform their work, commencing June 23. Crawfish are seriously interfering with farming near Egypt, Tenn., by burrowing in the levees. The Tax-payers' Association in Baltimore has endorsed Mayor Davidson's stand against the day-labor system for city work. An Iowa Judge charges the Grand Jury to indict persons charged with selling liquor, no matter where the liquor came from. The three Government bands around Norfolk were ordered not to make engagements with the military to attend the Lee monument unveiling. No employees of the New York Police Department, who could not swear he was not interested in the liquor traffic, has resigned under the new law.

Scrofula

In Its Worst Form—"White Swelling" Cured.

The remarkable effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the following case illustrates the power of this medicine over all blood diseases: "My son, 7 years old, had a white swelling come on his right leg below the knee, which contracted the muscles so that his leg was drawn up at right angles. Physicians lanced the swelling, which discharged freely, but did not help him materially. I considered him

A Confirmed Cripple.

I was about to take him to Cincinnati for an operation, expecting his leg would have to be taken off, and began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla in order to get up his strength. The medicine woke up his appetite, and soon pieces of bone were discharged from the sore. We continued with Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it seemed to be doing him so much good, and the discharge from the sore decreased, the swelling went down, the leg straightened out, and in a few months he had perfect use of his leg. He is now apparently as well as ever." JOHN L. MCMURRAY, Notary Public, Ravenswood, W. Va.

Protect the System From Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where malaria is most rife, and where the periodic fever which it causes assumes their most formidable types.

The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the effect of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloids, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional endorsement which it has received has added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Strong Language.

J. B. Langbran, ex-mayor of North Des Moines, Iowa, said recently: "I have just recovered from a severe attack of la grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success, since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed in a job office in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. It cured his cough and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. I have been strongly in their favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convince me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think." For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shront, pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kansas, says: "I fell it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 pounds in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousands of friends is to see them to try it. Free trial bottles at W. F. Pinner's drug store. Regular sizes 50c and $1."

Liver Complaint—Biliousness.

The chief symptoms of this disease are depression of spirits, foul coated tongue, bad tasting mouth, disagreeable breath, dry skin, with blotches and eruptions, salivary complexion and yellow eyes, tired, aching shoulders, dull pain in right side, faintness, dizziness and irregular bowels. This complaint in all of its forms can be readily cured by taking Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as directed, and a lingering spell of sickness will often be ward off by their use. Sold at 25c a box by S. J. Houghton.

Somebody Tells Somebody.

Dr. B. Hamlin, of Lemore, Cal., says a few dozen bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which he sold there created such a demand for the remedy that he could not well do without it. Those who use it find it so much superior to any other remedy they have ever tried that they recommend it to their friends, and that is what makes it so popular. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

Irritation of the throat and all lung troubles are quickly relieved and permanently cured by Fryer's Achromic Cough Balsam. (It contains no opium.) Price 7c. Sold by Wm. Pinner. The original and genuine Achromic preparations bear the facsimile signature of D. F. Fryer.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

An Interesting Communication From the National Capital. WASHINGTON, May 24, 1890.

EDITOR GAZETTE: I expected to be able to send with this letter brief interviews with members of our Congressional delegation on matters of direct interest to Nevadans, but have been very busy the past week and unable to call on any of them. I will, however, send you a few items that may prove of interest.

The State War Claims bill, which has been reported to the Senate, will probably be acted upon at an early day. In case this bill becomes a law Nevada will receive $404,040.70, money paid by the State for the suppression of the rebellion. Senator Stewart is anxious to get the delegations from California, Oregon and Nevada to concentrate their efforts in behalf of the matter, and, if possible, carry it through both houses of Congress. He is also exerting himself in behalf of the Nevada Plute war claims. No material progress has been made in this matter since my last letter. The bill for the payment of those claims adjudicated by the State Board of War Claims, which has been for some time in the hands of Senator Jones of Arkansas, will be passed over to Senator Mitchell, who will give it his immediate attention and make a report at an early day.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

The battle for silver is being waged with spirit in the upper House of Congress. Next to Senator Stewart—whose labors have not by any means been confined to his able speech delivered Wednesday, for he has been writing articles for leading newspapers and magazines ever since his return to Washington last December, and in various other ways working assiduously to educate the East as to the merits of silver coinage—the staunchest friend of silver has in the Senate is Teller of Colorado. No half-way or compromise measure for him. Silver must have the same place in the monetary affairs of our Government as gold, and, though he was interrupted frequently during his argument by irrelevant questions of opponents, his answers in every case carried an intelligent determination and a sincerity that made the warfare anything but agreeable for the gold-bug contingent. Sherman of Ohio and Dolph of Oregon included.

A rumor is afloat that President Harrison is so sure that he would not sign any bill for the free coinage of silver or any bill which was passed by the aid of votes of Democrats. The rumor is not credited by Republicans, although, so far as I have learned, it has not been authoritatively denied. Should President Harrison or any other leader in Governmental affairs assume such a stand in defiance of a popular sentiment, such as is evidenced on all sides in favor of a bimetallic standard, and even free coinage, it is quite probable he will learn sooner or later, and rather sooner than later, that he is dealing with a people among whom free public schools abound and consequently free speech and free thought, and that the will of the people is the sovereign will. It is rare nowadays that the application of the lash is regarded with favor.

I might also mention in this connection a rumor of a plan in the House to get ahead of the Senate free coinage bill. It is to pass a silver bill of conservative tendencies through the House the coming week under a special order from the Committee on Rules, and thus get it through ahead of the Senate bill, believing it will have a good effect in deterring the Senate from an extreme course.

SOCIAL GOSSIP.

The Washington Star of this evening contains the following concerning a lady well and very favorably known in Nevada: "The engagement of Miss Letitia Aldrich, the niece of Senator Stewart of Nevada, and Rouseville Wildman, who is the editor and proprietor of the Idaho Statesman, Boise City, has been announced. The wedding will be celebrated early in June in St. John's Church, and Mrs. Stewart will receive a few friends of the young people after the church service in her apartment in the Shoreham. Miss Aldrich has scores of friends in this city who have been won by her sweet and kindly manner that is strongly supplemented by a beautiful face and figure. Her excellent work in amateur theatricals has also brought her many admirers. She makes one of the most beautiful Galateas in Gilbert's clever comedy. Mr. Wildman was born in Elmira, N. Y., and will go there for a bridal trip immediately after the marriage. Then if they do not go abroad they will go to San Francisco to visit the bride's mother and afterward make their home at Boise City. Mr. Wildman spent all the winter here representing his paper."

After the marriage Mrs. Stewart will leave for London, Canada, where her daughter Maybelle is at school. The two ladies will go to Carson, Nev., and remain during the summer. Mrs. Stewart and her brilliant entertainments will be missed by her host of Washington friends.

By the way, the names of Mr. and Mrs. Newlands are frequently seen under the head of "Social Matters" in local newspapers among those commending gatherings at entertainments given by leaders of Washington society. Last Saturday evening they were members of a party of friends of Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee on the south portico of the Executive Mansion, invited to enjoy the usual weekly Marion Band concert on the lawn immediately below. The party included Vice-President and Mrs. Morton, Senator and Mrs. Hale, Minister Roustan, General Sherman and others equally known. After the concert lunch was served in the Red Parlor of the Mansion. F. B. McKee.

A STRANGE CASE.

A Man With a Dislocated Neck Gets Up and Around in About Three Hours.

As Horace Green and Charles Ferrel, a horse-shoer for Billy Caughlin, were out for a ride yesterday on the Virginia road they fell from their buggy, and Ferrel was picked up unconscious shortly after the accident. He was brought to town, and Drs. Mullen and Lewis were called. The doctors examined him carefully and pronounced his neck dislocated, and proceeded to pull it into place. After it was straightened out he began to show signs of being a powerful young man, and it took five or six men to hold him down. He had several spasms, but in about three hours got up and dressed himself and came out on the street. He complained last night of having a very sore neck, but to-day is apparently as well as he ever was.

CLEAR YOUR FACE.

It is now known that a pimply skin is not the result of blood disease, but is caused by impaired digestion, for which they now give vegetable correctives instead of minerals.

Two short testimonials are given to contrast the action of the potent sarsaparilla and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mrs. C. D. Stuart of 1221 Mission street, S. F., writes that she took one of the leading sarsaparillas for indigestion and dyspepsia. Its only effect was to cause pimples to appear on her face. Upon taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla the first effect was the disappearance of the pimples and she was subsequently relieved of the indigestion and dyspepsia.

Robert Stewart also writes from Petaluma, Cal., that being troubled with boils he found that one of the leading sarsaparillas actually increased the eruptions, which responded at once to Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and disappeared immediately.
